DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Claims

Claims 20-31 are currently pending.

ELECTION OF SPECIES

This application contains a method directed to the use of the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: different amine compound structures (e.g. R1-R8, X and n variables) which are structurally distinct and capable of possessing different physicochemical/biological properties and which are capable of separate manufacture and/or use; and which require different and separately burdensome manual/computer structure/name/bibliographic searches.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species (e.g. a single compound) for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 20 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Further Election of species

This application contains claims directed to a method of modifying (e.g. inactivating) Viral DNA which encompasses viral DNA drawn to patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

e.g. different distinct viral species (e.g. herpes, retroviruses etc) which possess different viral morphology (e.g. enveloped/nonenveloped) different viral proteins and would comprise different DNA sequences which would be modified differently.

In this regard the different viruses would be classified differently (e.g. retrovirus in 424/208.1; orthomyxoviruse in 424/209.1; paramyxoviruses in 424/211.1 etc); and require different and separately burdensome manual/computer bibliographic searches.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed viral species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 20 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

1. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
